Forte, located on Bridge Avenue in Point Pleasant, has been a cultural oasis for the culinary scene of the Jersey Shore for quite some time. The absolutely delicious and unique cuisine prepared by Jon Ucal's restaurant is something that must be experienced — it's that good.

Outside of their food, they are also known for their unique live belly dancing nights. Having attended one of the shows previously, we can tell you this a really fun, interactive experience.

Audiences members, both male and female, can get up and shake it or you can watch in awe as the dancer balances a sword on her head as she dances. Like the food, this is an experience you must be live and in person at Forte for! You will be amazed.

Tickets are on sale and the show usually sells out, so call Forte at: 732.899.5600 for all the details and to book.
